OUR ACU
your choice
WHY STUDY AT ACU?

1. UNIQUE
Australian Catholic University (ACU) has six campuses around Australia. We aim to empower our students to think critically and ethically, and gain the skills to bring about change in their communities, professions and industries.

2. WE VALUE YOU
As a publicly funded university, we welcome staff and students of all beliefs and backgrounds, and uphold a respectful, open-minded and culturally diverse learning environment.
We support our students in attaining the highest level of academic achievement through the provision of quality teaching and resources.
We are committed to providing equal access to education for all people.
We provide flexible learning options such as part-time study to meet the ever-changing needs of our students.

3. PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE
We build and maintain strong links with our communities and industries to produce highly skilled professionals who are leaders in their field.
Throughout the course of their studies, students can undertake professional placements, volunteer work and community service, with many securing excellent jobs before they graduate.

4. MORE THAN STUDY
University is a great place to meet new people and have new experiences.
Each campus student association regularly hosts events such as barbecues, balls and concerts. There are also clubs, societies and initiatives, and sporting events such as ACU Games and University Games.
We are committed to the development of social and community engagement by providing opportunities such as volunteer experience programs which allow students to give back to their communities and make a difference.

5. TRAVEL THE WORLD
Students don’t have to wait until they graduate to see more of Australia and the world.
ACU students can attend an overseas university in more than 16 countries, complete an internship with Disney, and work in community programs around the world – all while receiving credit towards their degree.

6. YOUR SUCCESS
We understand that success means different things to different students.
The Office of Student Success works closely with students to meet their unique personal and academic needs. The Office provides academic skills, career development and counselling services, and support for people with special needs or disabilities on each campus.
Campus Life Coordinators and ACU National Student Association (ACUNSA) ensure students have the resources they need to achieve a healthy study/life balance.

7. CATHOLIC INTELLECTUAL TRADITION
As Australia’s leading Catholic university, ACU is fortunate to be supported by the richness of more than 2,000 years of Catholic intellectual tradition.
As a member of the International Federation of Catholic Universities, we are devoted, through research as well as teaching, to communicating truth in every field of knowledge, and to promoting the dignity of all people and the common good.
ACU is the only university listed as a national institution by the official Universities Australia body.

CAMPUSES across Australia

Whatever your reason, the choice to return to study can be exciting, but also a little daunting. Whether it is to advance your career, increase your skills or simply pursue an interest, you will probably have lots of questions about university life and queries about enrolment, costs or time commitment.

ACU has a strong network of staff and support services dedicated to making your return to uni simple and successful.

Finding the balance

We understand mature age students are busy, likely juggling work and family commitments. At ACU we offer flexible options and supportive technologies, such as evening classes, part-time study and online resources, to help you balance your commitments.

How much time you dedicate to study is up to you, however, on average each unit will require at least three contact hours per week, each semester. Depending on how many subjects you take, your learning curve and what your commitments are, you can work out the required amount of study time for you.
Benny Callaghan

Benny, an arts graduate from ACU, is now Chief Executive of the School of Social Entrepreneurs which runs nine-month programs for would-be entrepreneurs. Benny’s students have provided affordable fresh food hampers to struggling families, helped girls in Sierra Leone attend school, and given young people access to driving lessons.

“The school is not about taking experienced entrepreneurs; we’re taking ordinary, everyday people with big passion and ideas.”

The school is built on the premise that people who experience problems first-hand often have the best ideas on how to solve them, but often lack the skills, confidence, experience and networks to bring them to life.

“Every day I get to associate with some pretty inspired and remarkable individuals, and see their projects go from an idea to an initiative which is changing people’s lives.”

James Ajaka

James’ passion for building brands began while studying a Bachelor of Commerce at ACU, and has taken him from the world of boxing to the role of CEO at Nudie juices.

One of James’ first adventures in business came after meeting boxer Kostya Tszyu. “I felt there were so many things he should be doing with his brand,” said James, who then went on to secure Kostya a line of boxing equipment, a DVD and a triple book deal. “We put together a whole bunch of initiatives for Kostya which are still around today.”

Then in 2002, James was approached by Tim Pethick to launch a fruit juice business. “When we started, there was a blender, one truck and some fruit – we sold 40 bottles in our first week. Now [Nudie is] in every Coles, Woolworths and McDonald’s in Australia.

“I always think back to my days at ACU… On a day-to-day basis I still use the things that I learnt at school.”
Sarah Forgan-Doane

Sarah chose to study education at ACU because she wanted to make a positive impact on people’s lives.

“I was really drawn to ACU’s involvement with people,” Sarah said. “I admire that. It makes you think outside your own little square.”

After graduating from her degree, Sarah took up a teaching position at St John’s Primary School in Auburn. Inspired by the impact she was having there, she began to think about what she could do to improve education in poorer nations, and turned her sights to Africa.

She boarded a plane for Namibia where she took up work training teachers and educating students in western Africa.

“The thing I love the most is seeing the teachers’ faces after they have developed something new at a workshop and how proud they are of their new resources and skills. It was a very humbling experience.”

Sarah later returned to ACU to complete a Masters of Education to better understand how to consult communities about their own goals, rather than imposing an agenda on them as an outsider.

Heather Machin

Bachelor of Nursing graduate Heather never knows what her day will bring, but that’s to be expected when you work in a flying hospital and treat blind patients all over the world.

The 32-year-old is Director of Nursing for the ORBIS Flying Eye Hospital, which brings together dedicated eye care professionals and aviators to give the gift of sight to developing countries.

Onboard the refurbished DC-10 jet aircraft, local doctors, nurses and technicians from developing countries work alongside ORBIS’s international medical team to exchange knowledge and improve their skills.

“It’s an incredibly diverse role and on any given day I can be working on accreditation and policy development, as a nurse, flight attendant, or even loading cargo.”

In the 48-seat classroom at the front of the plane, doctors give lectures, discussions and live broadcasts of surgical procedures being performed in the Flying Eye Hospital operating room.

In the two years since she got the job, Heather has been to India, Bangladesh, the Philippines, Oman, Nigeria, Uganda, China, Indonesia, Vietnam and more.

“I particularly love returning to places I have worked before and seeing how the skills we helped them develop have made such a big difference to their practice,” she said.

Jean Madden

Realising the negative effects that lack of sleep and lying on concrete has on the physical and mental health of homeless people, ACU graduate Jean Madden came up with the Street Swag.

Made from lightweight waterproof canvas and a foam mattress, the swag can be folded into a bag, helping preserve the dignity of the homeless and acting as a deterrent to theft and violence.

In 2009, Jean beat actor Brad Pitt to win the prestigious INDEX design awards “people’s choice” category for her invention.

In 2010, she was named Queensland Young Australian of the Year.

Jean who has both a Bachelor of Education (Primary) and Master of Arts (Theology) from ACU, said that more than 15,000 Street Swags have been distributed to those sleeping rough around Australia so far.

“The Street Swag is not about solving homelessness, but about keeping people alive for as long as possible. It’s a great privilege to be able to help.”
WHILE YOU STUDY

Academic skills support
Get help with your writing skills, time management, exam preparation, oral presentations and much more. The Academic Skills Unit conducts workshops and individual tutorials and provides the resources that all students need to be successful at university.
Visit: www.acu.edu.au/academicskills

Bringing your campus to life
Campus Life supports the development of the ACU community through the facilitation of a rich, enjoyable, diverse and caring campus culture. Students, staff and the wider community are invited to engage in a vibrant and dynamic campus life through activities such as orientation, mentoring programs and clubs and societies.
Visit: www.acu.edu.au/campuslife

Free counselling
Free and confidential counselling is available to students with personal, study or work-related issues. Experienced staff provide a safe professional environment for students to discuss any areas of concern. The service also provides opportunities for students to develop general life skills to enhance their overall learning experience.
Visit: www.acu.edu.au/counselling

Disability support
The University is committed to ensuring that every student’s ACU experience is free from discrimination and harassment. A range of services, support and advice is available through the Equity and Disability Unit to help students overcome barriers that could hinder their university education.
Visit: www.acu.edu.au/equityanddisability

Improve your job prospects
We encourage all students to gain practical experience and broaden their professional contacts by undertaking internships and work placements in their chosen field. Through the Career Development Service students can explore their career options, and prepare to apply their new skills in the workforce. Find out what’s happening in the employment market, get help with job applications and interview skills, or search for your next job on ACU’s CareerHub.
Online support
Every ACU student has an email account and access to the online learning system. This allows you to submit assignments, get your marks, look up lecture notes, and view your academic progress. Some lectures are also recorded and available online, so you can either review the class or catch up if you missed it.

Orientation
Held at the start of the academic year, orientation is a great chance to learn your way around campus and meet new people. You’ll get tips on organising your timetable and keeping up to speed with your classes, and find out more about your specific course requirements.

Transport
All ACU campuses are convenient for public transport, with easy access to buses or trains. There is also parking available at some locations if you prefer to drive, and our Strathfield and Brisbane campuses offer a free shuttle service to and from the train station.

Libraries
Our libraries are an important learning space for students. ACU libraries have extensive print and online collections, and offer a range of services including inter-campus borrowing, past exam papers and internet access.

Religious services
ACU is founded on a long history of commitment to truth in a spirit of freedom and service and is open to students of all beliefs. Through Campus Ministry, ACU works to bring this distinctive identity to life. Students have the opportunity to explore the link between faith and reason and attend talks by international speakers on the latest trends in theology and philosophy.
ACU is committed to providing accessible education for Indigenous Australians, and received the maximum five-star rating for Indigenous Participation in The Good Universities Guide for 2012.

Indigenous higher education units on each campus focus on the provision of academic, personal and cultural support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students.

Flexible undergraduate courses are also available, allowing Indigenous students to live and work in their own communities, while travelling to Sydney or Brisbane to complete the face-to-face component of their course.

Ongoing assignments, further study and online learning are completed throughout the year from their home base.

CHANTELLE STENNER
BACHELOR OF NURSING

“ACU is a not just a great place to study, but a great place to meet new people. There is a huge range of cultural diversity and getting to know other students from different cultures and learn about their traditions has been a highlight for me.

There are also lots of social activities to get involved in. I played in the Indigenous All Stars team at ACU Games and we had a great time - I’m looking forward to doing it again next year!

I’m really enjoying my course and glad I decided to study at ACU. It has an excellent learning environment, great support, and is welcoming to everyone.”

ACUNSA is the national representative body for students on campus. It comprises the Presidents of each of the six individual Student Associations and the Student Senator.

ACUNSA manages the Student Advocacy Service, and aims to promote the welfare and interests of students, ensure they have a voice at executive level and generate an active university social life.

ACUNSA runs a range of events and programs throughout the year.

ENTRY BASED ON SECONDARY STUDY

WHAT IS A TAC?
Each state has a relevant Tertiary Admission Centre (TAC) that operates a centralised tertiary application system and publishes comprehensive information for prospective applicants. To apply for entry to an undergraduate course with secondary study results, simply visit your relevant TAC and apply online.

Find your relevant TAC below:

- Vic – www.vtac.edu.au
- NSW/ACT – www.uac.edu.au
- Qld – www.qtac.edu.au

WHAT IS A STAT?
The Special Tertiary Admissions Test (STAT) is a two-hour aptitude test that assists applicants in demonstrating their potential for tertiary study and helps tertiary institutions in making their selection decisions. The test is widely accepted and used by many institutions throughout Australia and a STAT result may improve your chances of selection for your course.

All states and territories regularly hold STAT tests and you can register to sit the next test in your state or territory through your relevant TAC. They also have more information on the STAT test including associated fees and how to prepare.

SHOULD I COMPLETE A STAT?
You may find that STAT improves your case for tertiary entry in the following circumstances:

Alternative Entry
You should consider sitting a STAT if you have no formal educational qualifications and you are applying for entry on the basis of Alternative Entry or mature age qualifications alone.

You may also consider sitting the STAT if you have completed the following:

- senior external examination subjects
- competency-based training course/s
- Certificate IV in Adult Tertiary Preparation.

Senior External Examination
If you have partially completed the senior external examination (for example one, two or three subjects), a STAT result can be combined with your subject results to increase your overall selection score.

Competency-Based Training (CBT)
A number of tertiary institutions, TAFE and registered training organisations (RTOs) in particular, have CBT, where students receive results of ‘competent’ and ‘not yet competent’. If you are undertaking a certificate, diploma, advanced diploma or degree course in which the assessment is competency-based, it is strongly recommended that you sit the STAT to potentially improve your selection rank.

Certificate IV in Adult Tertiary Preparation
The Certificate IV in Adult Tertiary Preparation (ATP) is a preparatory course conducted by TAFE Queensland and some private providers. A STAT result can be combined with the results from this certificate to improve your selection rank.

Subject prerequisites
The STAT may also be used to satisfy some subject prerequisites. For example, a good STAT result may satisfy the English subject prerequisite and a good score in the quantitative subsection of the STAT may satisfy the mathematics subject prerequisite for some institutions.

ENTRY BASED ON TERTIARY STUDY OR ‘ALTERNATIVE ENTRY’ QUALIFICATIONS

ENTRY BASED ON ALTERNATIVE ENTRY QUALIFICATIONS

To be a successful tertiary student, it is not necessary for you to have completed Year 12 or have any formal academic qualifications. ACU welcomes mature age students, and there are a number of alternative qualifications – such as life skills, work experience or study through TAFE – that can help you gain entry.

If you have not completed Year 12 studies, you will be assessed on evidence of equivalent knowledge, skills, experience and/or qualifications, such as completing an ACU pathways program (associate degree or non-award certificate), TAFE course or Special Tertiary Admissions Test (STAT).

ENTRY BASED ON TERTIARY STUDY

Admission to undergraduate programs is competitive based on an entry score allocated on the basis of your qualifications presented in your TAC application. In addition, you must satisfy any prerequisites or additional requirements specified for the program/s you apply for. ACU has a minimum eligibility score that is acceptable for consideration for admission to any undergraduate course by any student, irrespective of origin.

- The minimum eligibility score for a bachelor degree course is ATAR 58.50/OP 17 (which equates to a Qld rank of 65).
- The minimum eligibility score for associate degree, advanced certificate, or certificate programs is ATAR 49.50/OP 20 (which equates to a Qld rank of 60).

It is important to note that attainment of the minimum eligibility score is calculated using any bonus points allocated through the relevant Tertiary Admissions Centre for reasons of disadvantage only.
STUDY PATHWAYS

PATHWAY PROGRAMS

ACU’s Pathway Programs allow you to develop your skills and to make the transition into university study as easy as possible. These courses include associate degrees, as well as diplomas and non-award certificates, and depending on the course you choose, you may also have the opportunity to fast track your studies saving you both time and money!

When you successfully finish a pathway course and achieve the necessary grades, you may be eligible to gain entry into ACU courses.

ACU makes things simple with step-by-step pathway programs

Pathway courses at ACU include:

- Associate Degree in Early Childhood Education
- Associate Degree in Indigenous Education
- Diploma in Theology
- Diploma in Youth Ministry
- Associate Degree in Inclusive Education and Disability Studies
- Associate Degree in Business Administration (Indigenous Studies)
- Certificate in Liberal Studies
- Advanced Certificate in Educational Studies
- Certificate in Educational Studies
- Certificate in Business Information Systems
- Certificate in Commerce
- Certificate in Theology

ACU ACCESS SCHEMES

ACU offers a range of access schemes that are available to University applicants who meet certain criteria.

For equality and diversity
Our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Special Entry Scheme is open to Indigenous Australians applying for entry into an undergraduate program.

For community contributions
The Early Achievers’ Program is a special entry program open to Year 12 students and non-recent school leavers that considers community involvement as part of the application process.

For the athlete
The Elite Athletes’ Program caters for students who are pursuing athletic goals alongside their academic studies. ACU may give special consideration to applicants who have been competing in a sport at a high level, and whose level of training has impacted upon studies.

For the disadvantaged
The Educational Access Scheme and the Special Education Access Scheme are bonus points schemes open to applicants applying through their relevant Tertiary Admissions Centre (TAC) who have experienced educational disadvantage for a variety of reasons.

For more information on access schemes visit: www.acu.edu.au/251341

AUSTRALIAN QUALIFICATIONS FRAMEWORK

An Australian Qualification Framework (AQF) qualification is the result of an accredited complete program of learning that leads to formal certification that a graduate has achieved certain learning outcomes.

One of the key objectives of AQF is to facilitate pathways to, and through, formal qualification, and they can assist you in articulating into a course at ACU.

For more information visit: www.aqf.edu.au

CREDIT FOR STUDY AT OTHER INSTITUTIONS

By completing a certificate, diploma or advanced diploma in a field similar to the course you wish to study at ACU, you may be able to gain entry into your course or apply for credit towards your ACU degree. This allows you to benefit from prior learning by giving you entry to the course of your dreams or reducing the number of units you need to study at ACU!

ACU has a number of credit transfer agreements with public and private providers, nationally and internationally, including TAFEs, colleges and other universities.

A small selection of our partnership institutions include:

- Box Hill TAFE
- TAFE NSW
- Metropolitan South Institute of TAFE
- Australian Institute of Music
- Melbourne Institute of Technology

Credit Transfer Database

Do you want to know which courses at what institution will allow you to articulate into your dream course at ACU? The Credit Transfer Database is a flexible online tool which allows you to search external educational providers and courses that enable articulation into ACU academic programs.

To use this tool visit: www.acu.edu.au/138434

If your course or where you have studied, or are studying, is not listed you may seek credit for study on an individual basis by filling out the Credit/Recognition of Prior Learning form, which you can download at www.acu.edu.au/245658

APPLY IN 4 EASY STEPS

STEP 1
Choose the course you would like to study

• Read through ACU’s 2013 Undergraduate Guide
• Go to www.acu.edu.au/courses
• Arrange a campus tour by emailing campustour@acu.edu.au
• Attend an information session at one of our campuses
• If you have any questions, phone 1300 ASK ACU (1300 275 228) or email futurestudents@acu.edu.au

To be eligible for entry to ACU undergraduate courses you must have completed your studies and gained an OP (Queensland), ATAR (NSW, ACT, VIC), or completed an equivalent qualification such as a UniAccess course, TAFE course or STAT test, or met the criteria for direct entry into the University.

Check out the scholarships offered to students

ACU offers a number of scholarships, bursaries and prizes funded by the University Foundation, the Commonwealth Government and various benefactors. Some are open to all students; others are restricted to students in particular courses or at particular campuses. They are awarded at the discretion of the University and are subject to available funding. For more information see page 40 or visit www.acu.edu.au/scholarships

STEP 3
Consider ACU’s direct-entry programs

ACU offers a range of direct entry options accessible by mature age students, including the Early Achievers’ Program and Elite Athletes’ Program. For more information, visit www.acu.edu.au/access, call 1300 ASK ACU (1300 275 228) or email futurestudents@acu.edu.au

STEP 4
Apply through the relevant centre

Queensland Tertiary Admissions Centre (QTAC) – www.qtac.edu.au
University Admissions Centre (UAC) for NSW and ACT students – www.uac.edu.au
Victorian Tertiary Admissions Centre (VTAC) – www.vtac.edu.au

If you have any questions about your ACU application, phone 1300 ASK ACU (1300 275 228) or email futurestudents@acu.edu.au are the classes you study in a semester. There are usually four units per semester, 12 weeks in each semester, and two semesters a year.

is your chosen area of in-depth study or specialisation. Once you have selected your major, you must complete a defined set of units, to complete your course. For some courses the degree major is explicit in the course title, for example Bachelor of Nursing, whilst in other courses you will need to select a major study from those available within the degree.

is a recognised set of units which you may be required to complete as part of your course. Minors are designed to complement your major course of study and intended career path, or can be something that interests you personally.

Whether you know exactly which subjects you want to study, or you need a little time to work it out, ACU has a flexible system which will benefit you.

For arts and business degrees, if you don’t have an exact profession in mind but know what you’re interested in, you can start studying your chosen subject straight away, along with additional subjects to expand your breadth of knowledge.

If you want to study for a degree that allows you to practise in a particular profession, such as a teacher, nurse or physiotherapist, then your program will concentrate on the core subjects connected to your degree from the start. This sort of degree offers less flexibility as it must satisfy the requirements of the relevant professional organisation, but you do still get to choose some electives that interest you.

Most of the three-year undergraduate degrees at ACU comprise 24 units of study, totalling 240 credit points.
